Taitiksh Sharma

Software Development Engineer II at Amazon | Ex - Engineer III at American Express

India

Summary

Hi there! My name is Taitiksh and I work as a Software Development Engineer II at Amazon. I'm passionate about building scalable systems that solve complex problems and am always looking for new challenges to tackle.

I received my degree in Computer Science from VIT University Vellore and have been working as an engineer for 5 years. Before joining Amazon, I had the pleasure of working at American Express as an Engineer III, I gained valuable experience developing software solutions specifically tailored for financial applications, which helped me to build and refine my skills in this specialized field

As a software development engineer, I find the opportunity to learn and explore new things in the industry incredibly exciting. My expertise lies in Java, C++, Python, Big data, and I have a keen interest in problem-solving, and designing scalable systems. In addition, I have experience working with cloud technologies like Amazon Web Services (AWS).

I'm always happy to connect with like-minded professionals in the industry. Please feel free to reach out if you're interested in connecting or collaborating!
