Adarsh Joseph

Senior Software Engineer at PayPal
Bengaluru, Karnataka, India

Summary

My journey in software engineering began in 2013 when I wrote my first-ever 'Hello World' program in C. Since then my interest in programming and coding had only steadily increased and hence paved the way for me to take up BTech specializing in computer science from College of Engineering, TVM. My bachelor's enabled me to learn and unlearn concepts and to build skillsets to solve real-world conundrums through programming. Currently, I have thorough working knowledge in Java, SpringBoot, and Python. I identify myself as a hard worker and an efficient team player with adaptability and responsibility.
